Photography of Yesterday and Today

Discover your passion for photography with 35mm film cameras, Digital SLR's, black & white film and through making prints.

Our Photography Specialty Camp partner's digital media, with traditional dark room development for a program that helps campers as they develop their skills and improve their ability to see and make images. This comprehensive 1-week photography focus uses traditional film cameras, B&W film, and the darkroom to explore photographic vision. Kids will participate in darkroom training, film development and print-making, and lots of fieldwork. In addition, they will have the opportunity to display their work to the community through the closing slide show and will return home with a portfolio of their work.

Mixed in with traditional camp programming, campers enrolled will spend two periods each day working on their photography. The other two are selected as electives, which allow participants to take part in the other camp activities available as well. This is a terrific program for campers interested in taking part in an overnight camping experience who also have a passion and interest in photography.
